

Study

at the
KIT/NYU MEG Lab - Psych Department

PAID STUDY -- ARABIC speakers needed!
Must be 18 years or older.

Name of study: MEG Study of Language Processing

Purpose of study: This study is designed to investigate brain responses to language during reading comprehension.

Name of experimenter: Dr. Alec Marantz, NYU Department of Psychology

Location of study: KIT/NYU MEG Lab, 6 Washington Place, NYU

Specific requirements: Native Arabic speakers who know Standard Arabic (فصحى).

Type of activity: In this experiment you will be presented with sentences in Standard Arabic, flashed word by word on a screen. After each sentence, a phrase appears. Your task will be to indicate whether the phrase is true or false based on the sentence.

Length of time: Up to 1 hour

Remuneration: $15 per hour

Contact information:

Name: Suhail Matar

Phone: (646) 272-9243

Email: sm6832@nyu.edu

Approved for posting
on 8/15/17 by BW.

